Risk

Equity Risk: The fund may invest in equity securities which are subject to greater fluctuations than other assets. Factors which may affect the fluctuation including economic conditions, industry or company news. High volumes of trading may also see increased transaction costs.

Thematic Risk: The Fund may be subject to the risks associated with, but not limited to, investing in companies with a material exposure to the climate transition. These risks include the obsolescence of intellectual property as technology evolves and changes in regulation or government subsidies that may affect the revenue or profitability of a company

Sustainability Risk: The Manager, acting in respect of the Fund, through the Investment Manager as its delegate, integrates sustainability risks into the investment decisions made in respect of the Fund. Given the investment strategy of the Fund and its risk profile, the likely impact of sustainability risks on the Fund's returns is expected to be low.

Currency Risk: Some of the Fund's investments may be denominated in currencies other than the Fund's base currency (USD) therefore investors may be affected by adverse movements of the denominated currency and the base currency.

Market Risk: The risk that the market will go down in value, with the possibility that such changes will be sharp and unpredictable.

Operational Risk: The Fund and its assets may experience material losses as a result of technology/system failures, human error, policy breaches, and/or incorrect valuation of units.

Derivative Risk: The Fund may invest in Financial Derivative Instruments (FDIs) to hedge against risk, to increase return and/or for efficient portfolio management. There is no guarantee that the Fund's use of derivatives for any purpose will be successful. Derivatives are subject to counterparty risk (including potential loss of instruments) and are highly sensitive to underlying price movements, interest rates and market volatility and therefore come with a greater risk.
